Rethinking the Design and Implementation of Individualized Education Programs Through a UDL Lens

Description:	Are Individual Education Programs (IEPs) driving the changes that we want for our learners who are eligible for special education? Or have they become a boilerplate document that teams complete, but don't use to full capacity within the classroom? The intent of the federal law IDEA is "ensuring equality of opportunity, full participation, independent living, and economic self-sufficiency for individuals with disabilities." Discover how we can use the UDL framework to harness the true goal of IDEA using the IEP, including specially designed instruction, every day within the classroom to empower our learners.

Using UDL to Leverage Co-Planning

Description:	Do you regularly collaborate with co-teachers or other school staff to proactively plan to support the learning of all of your students in the general education classroom? If you are a general education teacher, intervention specialist, ESL teacher, speech-language pathologist, OT/PT, title teacher or another collaborative teacher, then this webinar is for you. Join us as we discuss how to use UDL to leverage co-planning. Bring your best ideas as we discuss how to make these partnerships work for the benefit of all students.
